The Valencian Community: much more than a destination for campers

The Valencian Community is one of the preferred destinations for campers.

The tourist attraction of our region, with over 500 kilometres of coastline, beautiful mountain scenery, unique cultural events, a historical and architectural heritage that bears witness to a memorable historical legacy, and an internationally renowned gastronomy, attracts thousands of people every year, who see our region as an ideal place to spend their holidays.

But what is it about the Valencian Community that makes it so special for camping?

• Mediterranean lifestyle

In our region you can breathe “Mediterranean” in every corner, and this is reflected in a calm and welcoming lifestyle with the visitor, where leisure, culture and outdoor life are the main features.

• Pleasant climate

With over 300 days of sunshine a year and average temperatures of around 20 degrees Celsius, the Valencian Community has a mild and pleasant climate that allows us to enjoy nature at any time of the year.

• Beaches and mountains

The provinces of Castellón, Valencia and Alicante have more than 500 kilometres of coastline, with quality beaches recognised with the “Blue Flag” seal and with areas recommended for scuba diving, snorkelling, kitesurfing and sailing.

Meanwhile, the Valencian Community has inland enclaves of high ecological value, including 22 Natural Parks, which are ideal for lovers of hiking, canyoning and climbing.

• Tradition and modernity

The Valencian Community has the ability to unite tradition and modernity in its towns and cities like few other Spanish regions. In them, the most deeply rooted celebrations coexist with innovation, design and avant-garde art, forming an interesting pairing that strengthens us as a top international tourist destination.

• Active tourism

The characteristics of our terrain, with coastal areas and inland mountainous ecosystems, make us an excellent choice for campers who love active tourism, who find in the Valencian Community a perfect setting to practise activities in nature.

• Quality accommodation

Among the wide range of accommodation available in the Valencian Community, it is worth mentioning our campsites, and in recent years they have become consolidated as an option for all types of travellers at any time of the year.

Campsites in the Valencian Community: more than just accommodation for your family getaways

Campsites in the Valencian Community stand out for their quality and comfort.

Located in unique natural settings, near cities, on the beach or in inland villages next to the mountains, they offer travellers a wide range of facilities and activities, including restaurants, washing machine and ironing service, sports courts, Wi-Fi, special programming in high season, supermarket, medical service, first-aid post, information on hiking routes in the area and much more.

Some of them are also specialised in wellness services, and during your stay you can enjoy a jacuzzi, hydromassage pool, heated pool, gym or wellness centre with beauty treatments.

The Valencian Community's campsites are great accommodation whether you are enjoying your adventure or relaxation time on your own, as a couple, with your family or in a group.

Many of our partner campsites are also pet-friendly, which means that pets such as dogs are welcome.

Most of them have pitches equipped with electricity, water, service station and all the comforts for those travelling in a caravan, motorhome or campervan, and you can also camp there in the more traditional way with your tent.

In many of them you will also find cabins, with one or more rooms, which are perfectly equipped.

Most of them have a private bathroom and kitchen, and are equipped with air conditioning, TV, kitchen, electrical appliances, household items, sheets, towels, etc.

This type of accommodation is an "extra" in quality and comfort, and is increasingly in demand, especially among new campers or travellers who are looking for exclusive experiences and wish to stay in natural surroundings, but without sacrificing the comforts of a good holiday establishment.

Cabins: the accommodation option with most advantages

Cabins are an alternative accommodation option for travellers and campers who do not want to camp or who are not travelling in a caravan or motorhome.

Generally speaking, they are easily adaptable to the needs of users, as they have the same comforts as a conventional property and usually have the required equipment for cooking, washing clothes, etc.

They are normally made of ecological materials (Nordic wooden cabins are very common, although modular houses or mobile homes can also be found on campsites) in order to better integrate into the environment.

Solid, resistant, safe and insulated from the cold, heat or humidity, most are simple and accessible, with a single floor, a functional and comfortable layout, but without forgoing innovation and originality in their shapes and designs.

In fact, at campsites in the Valencian Community you will find fantasy cabins that will take you back in time or provide you with unique experiences.

Our partner campsites offer you all kinds of cabins, perfect for couples, or cabins with several bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen and bathroom for the whole family.

Some have a covered porch or terrace to enjoy your moments of relaxation, or with direct access to the garden or communal areas of the campsite so that you can always feel in touch with nature.

Cabins are the perfect accommodation if you are looking for...

- More comfort. You won't have to bring a tent and all the accessories associated with camping. The cabins at our campsites are fully equipped and you only need your hand luggage to enjoy your holiday.
- More security. These types of cabins are solid and resistant. They are built with highly durable materials and stand out for their quality finishes. They are also insulated and adapted to withstand the inclement weather and the geographical areas where they are located (beach or mountain).
- More space. In the cabins at our campsites, you will enjoy more space during your holidays. Designed to accommodate several people, some of them have various independent bedrooms, living room, dining room, etc.
- More privacy. By staying in a cabin, you will have all services at your disposal for a comfortable stay, and in most cases, you won't have to use bathrooms and other communal areas of the campsite if you do not wish to do so. Many travellers appreciate this privacy.
- More versatility. The designs and features of camping cabins are practically infinite, and they adapt to all kinds of needs and tastes.
- More accessibility. Almost all camping cabins are usually designed on a single floor, which increases their functionality, and many of our partners also have cabins that are fully adapted for people with reduced mobility.
- More exclusivity. This type of accommodation brings added value to our campsites and gives you the option of staying in the heart of nature, in direct contact with the environment, while enjoying all the services of the campsite and without sacrificing comfort. Some of them have parking on the cabin site itself.
- More sustainability. This type of accommodation is usually made with sustainable, recyclable and environmentally friendly materials, and under criteria of efficiency and sustainability.

Moreover, some of our partner campsites have unique accommodation, much more original and recognisable by their characteristic shapes:

- With a rounded roof. Although they may be a little smaller (they usually have a single room and capacity for 4-6 people), they are a sophisticated and comfortable accommodation for camping in nature.
- If you are looking to sleep in more original spaces, you can opt for Safari cabins, which are among the favourites of adventure-loving travellers. With one or more rooms and different capacities, their interiors have space for chairs, tables, beds, sofas, hammocks, a lounge corner, etc. Many have a terrace, and most have large windows and doors to enjoy the best views of the surrounding area.
- Yurts, with a rounded structure, are inspired by the nomadic way of life, and provide a comfortable, secluded and original space for outdoor stays. They are ideal for families looking for adventure and unique experiences.

Cabins for an unforgettable stay

At campsites in the Valencian Community, you can find different types of cabins, with inspiring designs and shapes, for a unique stay.

At the campsites you can find mobile homes, which are very popular. They are usually made with metal frames and panels, and their location can change depending on the demand, the time of the year, etc.

You will also find the so-called "miniature houses". Available in different sizes and shapes, they are built using high quality materials. There are open-plan models with a single room, ideal for couples, or models with a private bathroom, kitchen, living area, bedroom and even a terrace for greater comfort.

One of the most popular types of cabins at our campsites, especially in mountain areas, are the so-called Nordic cabins. Made of wood and inspired by Nordic architecture, their shape and materials blend in perfectly with their surroundings, making them an ideal option for getting in touch with nature.
